NATIONAL BEVERAGE ADVOCATES THE GIFT OF HOPE FOR THE KIDS OF ST. JUDE

Fort Lauderdale, FL . . . December 6, 2019 – In its 26th year as a continuing partner of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital®, National Beverage Corp. (NASDAQ: FIZZ) asks all to join in giving HOPE to precious children facing serious illnesses.

Founder and entertainer Danny Thomas opened the doors to St. Jude in 1962 with the dream that no child should die in the dawn of life. Today, St. Jude is leading the way the world understands, treats and defeats childhood cancer and other life-threatening diseases. No child is denied treatment based on race, religion or a family's ability to pay.

“You cannot possibly place a value on the gift of hope . . . it is unconditionally priceless!” affirmed Nick A. Caporella, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. “Hope lives at St. Jude - the remarkable advancements in research pioneered by St. Jude are responsible for saving countless lives. We are grateful for our long-term association with this selfless organization that delivers hope and miracles to deserving children and their grateful families around the world.”

“At this beautiful holiday season, we ask everyone to please join National Beverage with their generosity for our children. What greater joy is there than providing each and every one of them a hope-filled future?” concluded Caporella.
